

How can a Link Worker help you?

Social Prescribing Link Workers are there to listen and help you with your health and wellbeing. They focus on what matters to you and what areas you might be struggling with. They can connect you to community groups or services for practical and emotional support.

All GP practices in Rotherham have a Link Worker for their patients. You can contact your GP practice directly to be referred to a Link Worker, or you can refer yourself.

Find out what Link Worker covers your GP practice on Voluntary Action Rotherham's website - www.varotherham.org.uk/link-workers or scan the QR code below to get there directly.
